President's Message

In past years my wife and I have taken holidays following Christmas. This year we are staying put in Calgary so we will not have any travel plans to discuss. I am going to use my January President's message to publish a poem by Lou Vesh a former President, Editor and a current Life Member of CAWMC. The poem covers Lou and Yvonne's move to an apartment from their cherished cottage. (Lou can be reached at 878 Armour Rd. Ste 102 Peterborough, Ont. K9H 2A6 705-745-5630)

After many fun years with a view, In a place we named "Shangrilou", Came a time for a change to make, 'Twas a move we just had to take.
We were simply getting to old, So our home by the lake we have sold,
And after much thought and reflection, In Peterborough we made our selection,
In an apartment we chose to reside, Wherein for years we hope to abide,
Well, now we are ever so glad, And we named our new home "Peter-Pad"!

By the time you read this message Christmas and New Years will have come and gone for another year. I hope my Christmas flats arrived safely with the December Issue or with the special mailing of free woods. If any of the flats arrived damaged please contact me as indicated above and I will send a replacement in secure packaging.

I have received many renewals for 2012 membership and I would like to remind the few that still have not renewed that is now time to renew your membership. If you have any questions on your membership status please e-mail me at wood5cents@shaw.ca or please phone me at 403-273-6133. You can also reach me at Box 2643 Station M, Calgary, Alberta T2P 3C1. Also please start making plans for the RCNA in Calgary in July 2012.

Good collecting to everyone.

PLEASE OPT-IN!

The new Anti-SPAM Canadian law is incoming in to effect in about 6-10 weeks. The Canadian law is different than the U.S. in that in the U.S. you have to "opt-out" (unsubscribe) but in Canada, you have to opt-in. This applies to not-for-profit groups and businesses too. Therefore, to ensure we are in compliance and you can continue to have the Timber Talk newsletter sent by email to you, and so that you can continue to access the Timber Talk archives on the www.woodsycorner.com website, each CAWMC member receiving the newsletter electronically, needs to email the CAWMC President confirming that you "opt-in" subscribe to electronic receipt of the Timber Talk and other CAWMC communication. Kindly do this before the end of January 2012.

As well, there has been some requests for CAWMC to share members' contact information to build fellowship. Unfortunately the club cannot provide that information. However, any member who wishes their name and email contact information to be published in the Timber Talk requesting that other CAWMC members contact them to start a forum is welcome to do so. The IBNS asks when you take out a membership and every time you renew if you want your contact info shared with the other members, and then them publish 4 times a year of all of those willing to share along with the contact info.

This year instead of a round, Judy went with a standard 50 x 90 maple wafer flat issuing 100 to CAWMC and 100 to her own use. The front reads "Merry Christmas" across the top, and "2011, from Judy" across the bottom, and in the centre is a Christmas wreath covered in toys, and showing Tickle Me Elmo's head poking through the centre. The reverse reads "Happy New Year 2012, Best Wishes from Judy Blackman www.woodyscorner.com". It has a big smiling Teddy bear with holly on its hat.

This wood is #8140-028 in Norm's Catalogue, there were 1,000 issued, BL / BL, RD, 38mm.

obverse: CALGARY CENTRAL UNITED CHURCH reverse: IRENE & FLOYD MOGEN 25

CENTRAL UNITED CHURCH

Central United Church has been a congregation of the United Church of Canada since the Basis of Union in 1925 and is part of the Calgary Presbytery. Central values the inclusive community, theological history and the grassroots ethos of the United Church of Canada.

Unfortunately Floyd Leverne Mogen passed away October 1978, following memorial at McInnis & Holloway F. Homes, Calgary, he was cremated. Not sure of status of Irene.

The original North American Discus Society was around since 1962 c/o Dr. Kenneth Reeves, P.O. Box 1832, Arvada, Colorado 80001 USA, then disbanded some time in the late 1990s and then re-established as the North American Discus Association in 2004. This wood in Norm's catalogue is #5904-009, 225 issued, BZ/B, RD, 39mm. There was a 7th Workshop in Mississauga in June 1995 and these were made for that convention. Vern Archer was the editor of the society's quarterly "Our Discus" magazine for many years. He has nearly 35 years expertise in caring for discus. Bob Wilson was one of the society founders in 1962 and he served as President for 12 years. Doug Campbell was the first in Canada to successfully spawn discus on an average of 145 to 180.

Good water quality, nutritional food such as a vitaminized beef-heart with a non fresh water aquatic live food will go a long way in keeping your discus happy and in good health. Buying your fish from a quality breeder who practices the above will also get you started on the right foot.

Family shown at their New York home in 2005. Raymond was educated at Centennial College in the Business Administration program, and Red River Community College in Programming. His career includes President of Profitmaser Canada Inc., and

Raymond and Willie's father

President of Builder Mart of Canada Inc. He's affiliated with the Mennonite Economic Development Association; Canadian Association of Family Enterprises; Evangelical Mennonite Conference Missions Auxiliary; and the Alliance of Manufacturers. Raymond is also listed in the International Who's Who of Professionals. In addition to his family, career and community contributions, he enjoys golf.

In 1985, two Dueck brothers who owned a lumberyard, were looking for a convenient way to store their rolls of vinyl flooring products, but at the same time display it for their customers without having to lug rolls off of shelves. They did what any good sons do, they asked their father, who had operated his own machine shop since 1979, to figure something out. He did: a motorized carousel that became the cornerstone of the company's success.

Sales representatives who visited the store were sufficiently impressed with the unique machine that it created considerable buzz in the industry. Consequently, in 1986 Vidir built its first carousel for resale, and soon thereafter followed up with an advance on the original innovation that truly was cutting-edge: a carousel that not only stored and displayed carpet and vinyl, but also cut it on the spot.

The family business started manufacturing and acquired its first national account, Beaver Lumber, a chain that was eventually purchased by Home Depot (Canada), which recommended the carousel to its U.S. counterpart. Today, nearly every Home Depot store in North America has one or more of these Vidir machines. Vidir employs teams of driver / technicians to deliver the carousels with the Vidir trucks and set them up in the store, which Dueck says takes up about two days to get in and out. Today the carousel group provides industrial carousels to many of the Fortune 500 companies, including GM, Honda, and others. Each industrial carousel is custom built to meet each customer's specific requirement and then delivered and installed by Vidir's trained technicians.

You might expect that the family name is Vidir, for which the company might be named, but it's not. Vidir is an Icelandic word for willow trees, of which there are copious amounts in Arborg, Manitoba, a city north of Winnipeg, explains Raymond Dueck, co-president and son of inventor Willie Dueck. With about 160 employees and a sales office in Clermont, Fla., Vidir also sells its machines through partnerships with Brockie International Accu-Cut Cutting Machines and Complete Storage Systems Australia.

Another major big box customer is Wal-Mart, where Vidir supplies bike racks. Bikes are latched and raised using fluid motion controlled pneumatic springs. The bike carriers can be moved in and out so bikes are not stored directly above an active aisle way, and are well away from customers and store associates. Each level can be accessed independently. Storing the bikes in a horizontal position allows for up to four levels of storage in less than 17 feet of ceiling space. "We are currently producing our patented Bike Merchandising Systems at the rate fast enough to meet the needs of two new Wal-Mart stores per day," Dueck says. "There's been a lot of positive reaction to the use of our bike racks and we expect that every store will have our racks over the next several years."

Another patented product known as "Tug-a-Rug" enables a single person to fasten, raise, lower and remove the heaviest rugs quickly, simply and safely. The machines are manufactured at plants in Arborg and Morris, Manitoba about two hours away from each other. "The distance is unfortunate, but the Morris plant became available at a reasonable price.

The Morris plant manufactures the bike merchandising systems and grain storage bins, and specializes in powder coating, a finishing process that is both environmentally friendly and highly scratch-resistant and durable. Each facility measures about 80,000 square feet. Dueck notes that the Arborg plant in particular is currently "bursting at the seams" in terms of production capacity and that some future expansion will be likely. One option he isn't likely to consider, however, is going offshore.

"It's true that Asian factories pay something like 5 percent of what we pay workers here," Dueck says. "But any savings in labor expense is offset by shipping and handling costs, not to mention an ability to monitor quality control on-site. So China really can't compete, and I don't see us seriously considering moving our manufacturing offshore. We might source some components, but we couldn't respond fast enough if we moved assembly offshore."

Vidir also makes a variety of overhead storage systems, industrial motorized carousels, waste management, and related accessories. Dueck points out, "Like any business, we're always looking for opportunities to develop products for new markets."

N & R Dueck Builder Mart of Canada Inc. was incorporated July 27, 1983 until October 18, 1990 when it became Vidir Lumber & Supply Ltd. then 1538209, then becoming 174840 Canada Inc. and later dissolved December 9, 1999 for non-compliance under the Canada Business Corporation Act, and it has two directors at the time of dissolution, and previous jurisdiction Manitoba. It was headquartered at 400 St. Mary Avenue, Suite 900, Arborg, Manitoba R3C 4K5.

Today Vidir (which is C-TPAT compliant under the Terrorist Act of Canada) is considered a "Revolving Success" as a leading manufacturer and distributor of motorized storage, fixtures and display systems, specializing in systems for spooled products (wire, cable, hose, tires) and rolled products (flooring, textiles, paper) as well as other custom applications. David Soyka of US Industries Today reports on how this company's business gets things on a roll. An essential merchandising concept is to sell product "off-the-rack." Equally important to having stock on hand, it allows the customer to see the way merchandise is displayed. An eye-catching display that makes it easy for customers to browse the wares and get what they want is almost worth its weight in gold. Canadian display manufacturer Vidir Machine, Inc. would probably prefer to get paid in gold if it could, given that 90 percent of its business is conducted in the U.S. and the current exchange rate of the Canadian dollar is 1.03 cents in U.S. currency, a significant decrease from only two years ago when 65 cents American equaled a Canuck sawbuck. However, like any business, Vidir has learned to roll with the punches. Rolling, in fact, is a unique feature of its products. Vidir makes merchandising carousels and displays that store and handle rolled products such as carpeting and sheet vinyl. Go to the flooring department of your local Home Depot and the rugs you'll see on display are housed on a Vidir machine. Like most innovations, this device was invented out of necessity.

As per Industry Update Feb. 2011, Sid Dueck is President responsible for Management Executive sid@vidir.com and Peter Dueck is President responsible for manufacturing, production and operations peter@vidir.com. Overall the Dueck Holdings groups does $25 million a year domestic sales and $10 million export sales (27 countries), and they employed 100 full-time employees. The business is considered to have its roots back to 1979.

The Tree Riddle

This multiple riddle dates from the 19th. century. To solve it completely, you are required to identify 65 names of trees.

What's the sociable tree, and the dancing tree,
And the tree that is nearest the sea;
The most yielding tree, the busiest tree,
And the tree where ships may be?

The languishing tree, the least selfish tree,
And the tree that bears a curse;
The chronologist's tree, the fisherman's tree,
And the tree like an Irish nurse?

The tell-tale tree, and the traitor tree,
And the tree that's the warmest clad;
The layman's restraint, and the housewife's tree,
And the tree that makes one sad?

The tree that with death befriends you,
The tree that your wants would supply,
The tree that to travel invites you,
And the tree that forbids you to die?

The tree that will fight, and the tree that obeys you,
And the tree that never stands still;
The tree that got up, and the tree that is lazy,
And the tree neither up nor down hill?

The tree to be kissed, and the dandiest tree,
The tree guiding ships to go forth;
The tree of the people, the unhealthiest tree,
And the tree whose wood faces north?

The tree in a battle, the tree in a fog,
And the tree that bids the joints pain;
The terrible tree when schoolmasters flog,
And the tree a mother and child do name.

The emulous tree, the industrious tree,
And the tree that warms mutton when cold;
The reddest brown tree and the reddest blue tree,
And the tree one becomes ere one's old?

The treacherous tree, the contemptible tree,
The tree to which wines are inclined;
The tree that causes each townsman to flee,
And what round fair ankles are twined?

The tree that's entire, and the tree that is split,
The tree half given by doctors when ill;
The tree that we offer to friends when we meet,
And the tree we may use as a quill?

The tree that's immortal, and the trees that are not,
And the tree that must pass through the fire;
The tree that in Latin can ne'er be forgot,
And in English we all most admire?

The Egyptian plague tree, the tree that is dear,
And what round itself doth entwine;
The tree that in billiards must ever be near,
And the tree that by Cockneys is turned into wine?
